May 2011 newsletter

AFI Sunday Evening Lecture

Sunday 1st May

Hamish Saunders

Working with Janus 4.3 Astrology Software

Hamish is one of the developers of Janus. He will demonstrate how to get the most out of the software and reveal features that may not be immediately apparent to users. Bring along your questions and wishlist for future versions of the program.

Sunday 5th June

Christine Broadbent
The Power of Symbols

Astrology is a symbolic language and its symbols have demonstrated great sustainability through the millennia and in a variety of cultural and religious contexts. Just the fact that modern astrologers now have access to a number of new translations of old texts indicates the ongoing relevance of these powerful meaning systems. This touches upon something I hope to examine in much more depth as a PhD topic. We will explore the symbol "As above, so below" in its historical context and also its pivotal role in the astrological magical tradition.

Local Classes and Workshops

Love is in the Air

With Kate and Wills about to tie the knot, it may be timely to study relationship charts. In this workshop we will study the chart of your own relationship with your significant other. And we shall explore some answers to the eternal questions: What draws people together in the first place? What does he/she see in him/her? Does he love me? Does she love me? What are the challenges presented in our charts? Is it just a fling or will it last?

Time: 1.00 pm – 4.30 pm

Date: Saturday, 30 April

Fee: $35 (includes charts, handouts, refreshments)

Registration essential - Please register before Thursday 28 April to ensure participation.

Note: On registration, together with your own birth data, please advise the time (if known), date and place of your significant other, so that the relevant charts can be drawn up beforehand.

Local Classes and Workshops

The Third Entity - The Composite Chart

The Composite chart shows how a couple function as a unit; the relationship takes on a personality - and a power - of its own. But whether its between two people or an entire astrology class, using the astrological technique of midpoints the Composite chart becomes the "third entity" in a relationship. Prepare to be fascinated!

Time: 1.00 pm – 4.30 pm

May 29 Sunday Workshop

Good Timing and Meaningful Change

We all have our examples of a conscious intention that just does not happen, even tipping into its opposite. It could be that underneath we run another story line; that it just was not good timing. On May 28 you will explore the secret story line from your own chart as a starting point to good timing. We live in an era when change is inevitable and this workshop is about best riding those currents of change. Receive your own transit timeline for future useful timing hints.

Venue: Highbury House, 110 Hinemoa St. Birkenhead. Hinemoa Room 7pm—9.30 pm

Fees: Four Classes $160.00 (if paid in full by April 28) Casual Classes $55.

This includes individual tutoring help via feedback to your homework. There will be optional home tasks, and optional reading. Book by email now.

Bookings and your birth data are essential, including for casual classes.
