Frances Laneyrie and Fern Mercier The Asteroids and Female Leadership

Fran and Fern combine work from the fields of astrology and management. We explore astrological patterns created by the four asteroids - Ceres, Pallas, Vesta and Juno - within the natal charts of 40 women who work as leading academics in industrial relations and management, and have a particular interest in gender. The thesis of our research – which Fran presented in Paris in July 2010 to leading academics – is that:

As the Asteroids lie like a physical bridge between the personal planets and the social planets, they may also act symbolically as a bridge between the personal and the political. The main four – Ceres, Pallas, Juno and Vesta all carry strong feminine symbology and may likewise carry the power and strength of the feminine into the social realms by women who have them strongly featured in their horoscopes.

Fran began her study of astrology in the late 1970s, at the newly established Humanistic School of Astrology (Sydney) taught by Alia Griffen. Key influences on her thinking at this time were Liz Greene and Demetra George. Fran has taught management for about 25 years, first in Wollongong, and the past six years at AUT (Auckland University of Technology) where the focus of her research has been on the historical involvement of women in the labour movement. She believes that work on feminine archetypes in astrology has the potential to open up new ways for academics to reconsider how they go about researching and subsequently writing up their research about these amazing women.

Fern has been working astrologer for over 30 years and is a long-time member of the AFI and ASNZ.

Astrology and Healing Classes

October 14 Stellar Healing & the Planetary Keys

Did you know that Jupiter 'thought forms' are a natural antidote for afflicted Mercury and Uranus patterns, that Jupiter thought forms can be evoked imaginatively and that colours assist the process? This is one small example of 'Stellar Healing', want more?

October 21 Tides of Natural Healing

Earth, Air, Fire and Water are the Astrological elements which form the skeleton upon which an understanding of the star signs depends. We will examine two useful ways of using the elements for psychological insights and a healing process.

October 28 Mapping the Territory

You will be guided to examine your own natal chart for sensitivities and healing themes via certain planet patterns. The earthy sensate houses of the chart will be explored for their role in our physical nature and needs, while the watery feeling houses will be examined for their emotional and psychological significance.
